To support all day-to-day aspects of the BMA’s social responsibility, charitable, and wellbeing activities to ensure that the annual programme of work is implemented and delivered. This role will support day-to-day aspects of the BMA strike fund to ensure smooth project planning and oversight, governance support, and application management. This role will work collaboratively with colleagues across the association including communications and finance.

Duties and Responsibilities

What are the core duties/responsibilities required to be performed in the role. (e.g., to provide a full range of administrative support services to the department including x,y,z)

Please provide a bullet point list

Core duties and responsibilities for this role include:

- Providing support to ensure smooth running and administration of the BMA social responsibility, charitable, and wellbeing activities - including: arranging meetings, collating/despaching agenda and papers, attending meetings, developing draft minutes for review, recording and following up actions to completion to report back as required
- Administering the BMA strike fund task and finish group (under the direction of head/director) – including: scheduling meetings, research and drafting papers, taking and distributing minutes and action points
- Supporting administration of claims to the BMA strike fund – including: reviewing applications to the fund (including verification of payslips), organising approved grant payments
- Distribution of strike fund payments, including preparation of spreadsheet for finance to action
- Contribute to the development of communications with members and stakeholders as required eg keeping the website up to date, developing blog posts for the Loop
- First point of contact for BMA strike fund queries from members
- Contribute to all areas of people & corporate development as and when needed (under the direction of line manager/director)
- Contribute to the development and delivery of the directorate’s business plan, performance indicators and risk management plan

Skill (level and breadth of application)

What relevant experience is necessary to undertake this role? What specialist, technical or professional qualifications are required to be able to perform the job?

How far does the role extend out across the organisation, eg confined to own team, involves co-ordination with another department or requires regular negotiation with many other parts of the organisation. Why is this necessary? Describe the range of issues that are involved in this, eg resolving people's IT problems, collecting information on key research items or advising members on a particular issue.

- Ability to draft meeting agendas, papers or briefings for review by head and/or director
- Excellent administrative and organisational skills to ensure smooth running of all BMA strike fund activities
- Excellent attention to detail
- Ability to work flexibly, picking up new areas of work and responding to areas of need in a positive manner
- Experience of using databases, managing information sources and online platforms (eg application management systems)
- Ability to grasp new concepts quickly to undertake analysis of where the BMA may stand or be involved in a certain issue
- Open to receiving constructive feedback positively
- Ability to work collaboratively and openly with colleagues across the BMA
- Understanding of the association's dual roles as trade union and professional body
- Personal resilience – occasionally comes into contact with challenging members/stakeholders

Intellectual demands (complexity and challenge)

What sorts of problems, situations or issues are typically dealt with? Give any illustrative examples. How are the problems, situations or issues dealt with (eg undertaking original research and analysis or seeking specialist advice)?

To what extent are standard procedures and processes followed when undertaking typical tasks, and how is personal initiative used when solving problems? To what extent is creativity used in solving the problems (eg adopting different approaches, trying things that have not been done before within the organisation or improving/changing previous approaches).

- Proactive in seeking and addressing feedback
- Ability to grasp new concepts quickly to undertake analysis of proposals, particularly in emerging areas of social responsibility, charities, and wellbeing
- Creativity in the development of materials to support all people & corporate development remits
- Problems faced will be routine – using own judgement to know what to refer upwards to managers
- Ability to keep projects on track by providing appropriate support to head/director
- Quick thinker – ability to respond decisively to any unplanned issues which may come up during meetings/events (eg. IT failure, catering issues etc)

Judgement (independence and level and impact limitations)

What are the typical decisions that are made in the job without reference to any higher authority? What informs/constrains the decisions (eg expenditure limits, have to follow clearly laid down procedures or working within broad objectives). What influence upon policy, procedures or resources is there (eg giving advice to others)?

Who (or what) is next to be affected by the decisions that are made – for example, supervisor sees them before they leave the team or the whole department sees and has to respond to the change that is made. Give typical example(s) of the consequences of the decisions (eg what impact does the decision-making have on the performance of the team/section/department/organisation)?

Judgement (independence and level and impact limitations)

- Ability to horizon scan and identify any potential risks and highlight to line manager
- Responsible for undertaking analysis and draft papers to a high standard and within requisite timescales
- Awareness of the sensitivities involved in some of the remits of people & corporate development and able to keep information confidential
- The majority of work will be reviewed by head and/or director of people & corporate development

Use of resources (supervision of resources and influence)

What responsibility is there for managing people, equipment, budgets, resources, customer's welfare or confidential information? If this is a staff management role describe what is involved, eg staff reporting, staff development, appraisal, leading a department or the allocation of work.

How does the role fit within the organisation, eg support role, team member, team leader, specialist policy adviser, or leading major areas of core business?

- This role sits within the people & corporate development directorate
- Considerable direct contact with members
- No direct line management or budget management
- Post holder is responsible for managing their own workload to ensure all deadlines are met

Communication (level, internal and external demands and significance)

What people are typically contacted (regardless of the medium) inside the Association, eg immediate colleagues, senior managers or administrators? Committee members are the only members classed as internal communication. Normal non-committee membership and doctors are external (see below)

Who is in regularly contact with the role holder outside of the Association, eg members who are not committee members, suppliers, members of the public? Approximately what percentage of the time is spent on external communications?

What is the purpose of these contacts, eg conveying information, gathering data?

- Contact with BMA and BMJ staff across the association – working closely with colleagues in devolved nations, member relations, communications, and finance. Purpose: to liaise on key issues and help to co-ordinate BMA social responsibility, charitable, and wellbeing activities, including the BMA strike fund
- Contact with BMA strike fund task and finish group members
- Contact with senior elected members and council members
- First point of contact for strike fund queries

Physical demands & coordination (physical effort and mental strain)

Are there any unusual physical or mental demands of the role; for example, lifting heavy objects, standing for long periods, using VDUs extensively or high levels of concentration?

- Ability to maintain focus and concentration while working in an open plan office

Working conditions and emotional demands)

What are the environmental conditions in which the work is conducted, the social and emotional demands faced by the role and the pressures resulting from these?

- Personal resilience – able to withstand robust challenge from elected and other members and stakeholders

Values and behaviours

The post-holder is expected to execute their role in line with our five organisational values.

The following examples illustrate how we are using our values to inform how we act:

We are leaders because:

- We strive to always improve
- We take responsibility for our actions
- We collaborate with each other and work as one BMA for the good of our members
- We are proactive and prepared to guide our members and each other

We are experts because:

- We understand our members
- We draw on our collective experience and knowledge to solve problems
- We use our insights and research to make decisions
- We provide accurate, credible, relevant and engaging information
- We recognise our strengths and act upon them

We are committed because:

- We listen to our members and put them at the heart of everything we do
- We are respectful, inclusive, open and honest with our members and each other
- We approach everything we do with confidence and sensitivity

We are reliable because:

- We deliver on what we say we will do
- We are accessible and approachable
- We build trust by being consistent and supportive
- We are positive and decisive whatever the situation

We are challenging because:

- We fight, ethically and fearlessly, for the interests of all our members
- We work as a brave, assertive and effective champion for high quality health services and the advancement of the profession
